The Newly-Brought Above by the Vulgar Competition—Five Candidates for Office—An Interesting Talk with Secretary Manning on Current Topics—County and Suburban Condition of the Parties of Cook County.

[Copyright, 1887, by James Gordon Bennett.]—The Gobin Ministry has collapsed, promptly has predicted the events of the last few days in this interest worksheet, and has been as right as a cigar can be. Four members of the Gobin Cabinet—Messrs. Perry Jones, Purser Logan, Glenmore, Perry Jones, and President Gobin—will live and M. Jones will be a member. The President Gobin will be Premier. Gobin will be head of it. I predicted the Gobin Cabinet will action, and M. Purser is considered as the most probable President of the new Ministry. The secret cannot be kept well by the Boulangists, because to provide a portfolio to the new Premier of the Gobin Ministry, after the resignation of Mr. Gobin this evening, Gen. Boulanger will have to resign the war portfolio himself, and even then he will be unable to find a successor. The Boulangists are in a terrible state, and the Gobin Ministry is to be a stronger than ever, and the Gobin Ministry will be greater than ever, and the Gobin Ministry will be greater than ever, and the Gobin Ministry will be greater

A CONFERENCE OF EMPLOYERS OF LABOR PROPOSED TO BE HELD SOON.

Representatives of Employers in the Building Trades to Meet and Decide Upon a Plan of Action—Resolutions Indicating the Firm Attitude of the Master Bosses—A Trade Standard Which Must Be Adhered to Once Settled.

The Executive Committee of the Master Masons have succeeded in inducing their men to agree and contributed a generous amount. They are proceeding upon the assumption that the strike will not be resisted for an indefinite period, and have made preparations accordingly. Private parties are issued to all men whom the Executive Committee consider representative in the commercial world, and who have not been interviewed with, and the invitations are placed to deliver any amount of time to the contracting masters. A committee is about to wait upon the employers of labor in the building trades

CHICAGO, Ill., May 17.—[Special.]—A private exhibition was given at Chicago and Lincoln Park this afternoon by Miss Lee Belfanger, of Chicago, and Miss Brothers, of Chicago, which was largely attended by ladies and gentlemen. The exhibition was given in the parlor of the Lincoln Park Palace, a Chicago resort, and was witnessed by about 60 persons, among whom were many from Chicago society. The contestants were Miss Lee Belfanger, who claims Chicago as her home, and Miss Brothers, who comes from Louisville, Ky. Both ladies are well known in sporting circles, and have fought before. Miss Belfanger is the champion of Chicago, and Miss Brothers is the champion of Louisville. The fight was for a purse of $100, and was to be fought with skin gloves. Miss Belfanger was the favorite in the betting, and was backed by her friends to the amount of $100 to $75. Miss Brothers was backed by her friends to the amount of $75 to $50

THE bill amending the National Citizenship act was passed in the Illinois House yesterday. The measure makes a sum as liability criminal for a conviction in any State, and the habit of incorporation is put in operation, with a life sentence for a third conviction.

RATES for money were firm at 6@7 per cent. Government securities were dull. Bankers' bills were weak at 48 cents discount. Sterling exchange was firm. The New York stock market was active and strong.—The Chicago produce markets were steadier, with less doing, and were generally easy in tone, the results of prices being larger. It was rumored that the clique known materially increased their holdings of wheat by the day's trading. As compared with Monday pork closed 50 cents lower, lard and meats a shade easier, wheat 1½ cent higher, corn and rye unchanged, oats ½ cent lower, barley nominally, and flaxseed 1 cent higher.

THE Canadian Pacific has secured 6,000,000 pounds more sugar for transportation from San Francisco to the East. It is to be the Hawaiian sugar refinery in the shape of—oil.

THOSE THE Americans from rather than surrender the power to exchange Salt Lake City, Helena, Prescott, and other intermediate points, refused to take 6,000 tons of through freight at a fair rate, which the Canadian and New York carriers found profitable. The excessive charges from these points on local points on the Pacific roads should be set aside by the courts and just and reasonable rates substituted, and it is the duty of the Inter-State Commission to bring suit for that purpose. So long as the transcontinental lines hope to compel the abrogation of the shortest rule they will persist in levying extortionate local charges. The only proper course is to make them take the old height of the law and submit in every particular to unlimited competition. They are using the law as a tool now with confidence in its evil, they understand perfectly that they cannot retain permanent dispositions from the commission.

MR. HARRIS declares it to be known that he is not the man who is running the urban deal in this city, if there be one. He says: "I have no connection with it, directly or indirectly, either as I own a basket of either cash or option wheat in Chicago." To this disclaimer may be added the remark which he is alleged to have made to a friend to the effect that he thought most of whom were here months ago, and intended to be old partners. Practically, that it would be a good thing for the two to join their forces, but that the latter did not see it. Perhaps both of them are content with the $2,000,000 which is understood to have been swept clear between them, and may lay up in the shape of profits an speculation. The following bit of gossip will be read with interest in the connection: A prominent man have bought large quantities of wheat during the winter on Duluth, Milwaukee, and other Western points, and sold in the market against those purchases. In the latter part of March he became apprehensive that a corner would be run in storage room here during May and contributed it, as far as he was concerned, by borrowing "all the loan-with funds of the Chicago banks" about the close of that month, and then loaned the money out to the combination through other parties. About April 20 he evidently called in those loans, which caused the clique to unload a large part of its May holdings and caused the radical change in the market which was at the time such a surprise to the trade as well as to the public outside. The proclamation compels interest to unwind its shorts without undue during that crisis, and then loaned the same money to the clique to enable its representatives to pay for the wheat they took in on May contracts.

RUMORS HAS BEEN heard in the Criminal Court of this county in the supreme effort to secure a jury for the trial of ten of the forty or fifty persons against whom the special grand jury returned bodily indictments. The trial, by, is to form of less than 1,000 of a similar nature returned against the individual persons. There are not only eight accepted men to the box, or less than one per day of the trial. The proceedings are thus representing true a farce, much, no doubt, to the satisfaction of the defense. Every effort is being made to keep intelligent, well-informed, and reputable men out of the jury box. Any one who has read about the danger of the county business in the newspapers, and who has expressed an opinion to his wife or friends, based on such reading, is rejected. Yet on the face of the list from who shall these considerations the jury will be told that they are to base their verdict on the testimony produced before them and on that alone. They will be instructed not to make any account of what they heard or read concerning the case before they were sworn as jurors. Intelligent and fair-minded men would act implicitly on these instructions. There is no reason why men who had read about the case and formed a conviction, unprejudicial reasons should be excluded for that merely. Indeed, such persons would make the very best jurors for the defense, for all that has been stated in the newspapers, even if true, would not be persuasive evidence. Those men would find on the facts as presented without malice or prejudice. The State's Attorney would have more reason to object to newspaper readers as jurors than the defense. If the evidence adduced does not tally with the published reports such men are apt to look on the indictment persons as victims of public clamor, and be disposed to sympathize with them accordingly. The proceedings in the North Side court may be technically within the law of the State, but they are not according to the facts of common sense, and it must be confessed they do not improve the public estimation of the administration of justice. The profession cannot be charged with that degree of hesitation to be expected in such cases. It begins to look as if the trial will be a great waste of time and public money.

THE CHICAGO & ALTON RAILWAY COMPANY. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat has volunteered an old man's word, and thinks itself able to predict the speedy collapse of the Inter-State Commerce act and a restoration of the former system of rebates, discrimination, long and short haul favoritisms, and general railroad sovereignty and public contempt. Among other absurd things it says:

The most remarkable feature in the existence and enforcement of the Inter-State Commerce act is the evidence it has brought out of the fact that nearly all the railroads of the country have been in the habit of violating its provisions. Not a single road has been found that has not been in the habit of violating the law. Not a single road has been found that has not been in the habit of violating the law. Not a single road has been found that has not been in the habit of violating the law

THE AMENDMENT FAILED.

THE CONSERVATIVES WIN ANOTHER VICTORY IN THE COMMONS.

Balfour Declares that the Government Will Not Rest to Obstructionists—The Debate in South—Notes from Germany—Movements of the Czar and Czarina—Italy and the Vatican—Miscellaneous Intelligence from Abroad.

LONDON, May 17.—The debate on the Coercion bill was resumed this evening in the Commons. Sir William Vernon Harcourt moved an amendment exempting from secret inquiry all proceedings relating to public meetings or agrarian movements, or existing combinations to injure landowners or rent. He said if the Government were resolved to direct inquiries somewhat under the bill to such offenses as murder, arson, "moonlighting," and the existence of mines, the bill might pass. The bill would thus deal with actual crimes and would not be a measure creating offenses. It is in power from the bill might apply to matters never before contemplated, as elements in circulation. The Home ought not to allow a measure to pass for the purpose of repressing crime which really had another object. What was the Government's intention? Did they propose to suppress combinations against landlords? Was a breach of contract to be made a criminal offense? Would the Government give Irish tenants the same measure of protection as that given laborers in England? [Cheers.]

Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, held that the offenses enumerated in the measure had been sufficiently defined, and the amendment, if adopted, would destroy one of the best features of the bill. Instead of the bill dealing with arrangements to defraud landlords, with exemptions to prevent a free exercise of private and public rights, or to destroy of trade and other forms of legitimate agitation, it was proposed to apply the bill to the suppression of the Government and to subject to suppression of the Government any combination which might appear to the Government to be dangerous. He would ask the House to reject the amendment, for every argument that the Government would not yield to coercion anything they refused to suppress. [Cheers.]

Sexton contended that unless the amendment was accepted the Government would be able to suppress everybody who might be an obnoxious character. Landlords and land agents could make night-shirt and nocturnal visits to tenants' houses, and the tenants could not complain of conspiracy, owing to acts of persons to be brought on for a formal inquiry. If they refused to produce persons, such persons might be imprisoned for long periods. [Cheers.]

Chamberlain, in support of the amendment, opposed the application of the Irish remedy to mainland questions, which were wholly different. He would be pleased to propose of the Government to accept the amendment, for every argument that the Government would not yield to coercion anything they refused to suppress. [Cheers.]

Dealings at the principal cities of the United States yesterday and to-day were:

	May 17.	May 18.
New York
Boston
Philadelphia
Baltimore
Cincinnati
St. Louis
New Orleans

New York exchange was quoted as follows yesterday: Chicago, 50c discount; Boston, 25c discount; St. Louis, par.

The demand for money continued active yesterday and rates were firm at from 6 to 8 per cent. Prime first-class mercantile and manufacturing paper is discounted at 6@7 per cent, while the frequent calls of the banks of southern cities, which arrange for their month's transfers of currency on account of shipments, has put the banks on the alert and considerably stiffened rates. That there is such a scarcity of the money in the city was shown by a good demand for commercial paper, which the banks readily discount at 6 and 7 per cent. The committee has also a good report of sales. Eastern exchange was firm at 50 cents discount. Sterling bills were slightly lower, following the decline in cables.

	May 17.	May 18.
Pound sterling
Francs
Reichsmarks

Nothing was doing in local investment circles yesterday, and the market was dull and featureless. Trading in stocks was light and prices were irregular, with a tendency to weakness. The bond market was quiet and unchanged. Government bonds were dull and steady.

The following were the closing quotations of stocks for the regular session, with compari-

Produce was quoted much as usual, higher prices prevailing for wheat, corn, and oats. Provisions were dull and weak, with a decline in mess pork and lard. Receipts of grain and flour were fair to-day and larger than for the week previous. Shipments were moderate. Receipts of provisions were small. Shipments of provisions were moderate.

We'll transpose this question and say: The World—the Clothing World—is ours to select from. While those clothing firms who indulge in unbusinesslike flings and similes are but agents for Eastern concerns, and must take what their principals send and sell at stated prices, we can select, and do, from the best markets of the entire country, not being limited to the makes and styles of one house. These suits you are familiar with from our ads. of last Sunday, but the howl this statement caused the Clothing House of the Heroic Name to send up proved the "shoe pinched" and "cap fitted" it exactly. Yes, THE HUB will prove a veritable Marshall Field yesterday donated $100 to the Fishermen's Benevolent Association.

The opening of the Home for Self-Support, for Women and Girls, at No. 151 Illinois street, has been put off from Monday to a week from today.

Mayor Roche and several other gentlemen named as directors will be present and address the meeting on that occasion Tuesday evening, May 24, instead of Thursday the 19th, as previously announced.

Thirty-seven lessons of the Newberry series, ending with the "The Finish," in the last of five series, completed yesterday in the Cambria-st. school, were in Justice Summer's court. They should have been only two lessons quietly.

The temperature yesterday, as observed by Signal-service Observer Hastings, was as follows: 7 a. m., 47°; 10 a. m., 47°; 2 p. m., 48°; 6 p. m., 47°; 10 p. m., 47°; 12 p. m., 47°; Maximum, 2 p. m., 48°; Minimum, 5 a. m., 46°.

Charles T. Murphy, the confectioner at No. 69 Clinton street, says that he abandoned the gold cure because he expected to get in the insurance patrol, and now because he kept himself so full of gold that he has not room for any more. He says he will not advise or prescribe the gold cure, but says it has served him well.

Building a Chimney.

There was excitement and relief to be perceived in Judge Tuley's court-room yesterday morning when the jurors who had been empaneled against Clements to give their sentence and decree Long a fair and impartial trial. They were coming more prepared, perhaps, than a number of the Board of Trade battery boys, who were engaged in building a chimney. Judge Tuley's court-room is in the top story of the building, and the battery boys were engaged in building a chimney on the roof. Their work was completed in time for the court to hear the evidence in the case, and the jury will report to-day.

SILURIAN

In the remarkable freedom from organic matter it is the purest water I have ever examined.
WALTER S. HAINES, A.M., M.D., Chicago (Prof. of Chemistry, Rush Medical College).

The remarkable purity of the SILURIAN WATER is its perfect recommendation.
RALPH N. ISHAM, M.D.

More nearly approaches pure water than any effervescent in the West.
CHAS. GILMAN SMITH, M.D.

I have learned to esteem the SILURIAN WATER very highly in cases requiring diuretic treatment.
ERNST M. LYMAN.

In bottability of the bladder, chronic derangements of the stomach, and various dyspepsias, I have found it invaluable.
J. BUTTAM ENOS.

It is a boon to Chicago, whose life and health are often jeopardized by the water we are compelled to drink.
S. L. BEA.

I believe it to be the most pure of all the natural waters of our country.
OSCAR C. DeWOLF.

For many diseases of the genito-urinary organs it is nearly a specific.
THOMAS W. MILLER.

I have made large use of the SILURIAN WATER in the treatment of diseases of the genito-urinary organs, and have found it valuable.
JAMES SEVERN RYDE.

I judge it to be excellent, both as a beverage and diuretic.
SARAH HACKETT STEVENSON.

A most pure, agreeable beverage, and a safe diuretic in any disease of the kidneys.
MARY HARRIS THOMPSON.

I would recommend it as a beverage to resort and winter location.
A. S. SMALL.

From personal experience and observation I know SILURIAN to be unsurpassably the best of Waukesha Waters.
J. M. TOWLES, M. D., Greenville, Texas.

In all diseases affecting the water system of the body, as well as in dyspepsia, dropsical affections, and diseases of women, I believe SILURIAN to be the best water in the world.
ABRAM S. HEATON, M. D., Detroit, Mich.

I use it in my practice. Truly the basic mark is right, "LET US HAVE."
J. HERBERT MILLS, M. D., Elmira, N. Y.

FROM PROFESSOR SWING.

At this attempt to live on earth ought to have good air and good water, and not being able to buy pure air I want to contract with the entity to buy pure water. The SILURIAN SPRING WATER, natural of coming from the station and slaughter-house and sewers of a city, is filtered through the sands and gravel and rocks of Waukesha, and makes a drink for persons, sick or well, old or young. I do not know of its medical qualities, but this is evident, pure water will give life, and impure will take it away.
DAVID SWING.

MORE ABOUT EAST OF EUTAW.

Other Correspondence on an Important Subject.

CHICAGO, May 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In the discussion in the columns of THE TRIBUNE over the question "The East of Tenn. Bill" has brought out some interesting points on an important matter. Many of the present residents have no idea of the proposed scheme of cutting themselves off from the county. Those who are now living in the territory to be permanently retained in the county will be benefited by the proposed change, and it is to the public alone interest to do it. C. F. WOODWARD.

It was said in a recent issue in Cook County by the friends of the proposition to cut off the territory east of Eutaw that the people who live in the territory to be cut off were in favor of the proposition. It is true that a majority of the people who live in the territory to be cut off are in favor of the proposition, but the people who live in the territory to be retained in Cook County are opposed to the proposition by a majority of more than 2 to 1. The people who live in the territory to be retained in Cook County are opposed to the proposition because they do not want to be cut off from the county of Cook, and because they do not want to be compelled to pay the taxes that will be necessary to build a new court-house and jail in the new county of Eutaw. The people who live in the territory to be cut off are in favor of the proposition because they think that they will be benefited by the change. The people who live in the territory to be retained in Cook County are opposed to the proposition because they think that they will be injured by the change
